

ParkHere engineers, produces and sells innovative IoT-parking-solutions. We are looking for new talents to support our team in Munich as a fulltime

Junior Backend-Engineer (m/w/d)

You are a creative, self-driven and in love with tech? You want to work in a young and professional team? Then you should apply now!

Your tasks:

- Maintain and improve our mobile backend services
- Support migrating our existing IoT backend application to microservices
- Deliver high quality code by applying software development best practices

Our promise:

- We foster your creativity. You get room to develop and validate new ideas.
- We invest in our most valuable resources, personal development is native for us. (Conferences, Coding Days, internal events).
- Be part of the ParkHere family. You can join our monthly fun events like Go-Kart, Sledging, Lasertag. At any time you can improve your ping-pong skills.
- We offer a competitive salary.

Your profile:

- University degree in
 - Computer Science or an equal qualification
- Enthusiasm for new technologies
- First experience with AWS or other cloud-services (GCP, Azure) is a plus
- Knowledge in one JVM language (Java, Kotlin, Scala etc.)
- Experienced in using Git
- Good english skills

Safe up your precious time for an written application - just drop us an informal mail with your latest CV and we ´ll look forward to getting to know each other!
(clemens.techmer@park-here.eu, manuel.fasching@park-here.eu)

